ACWW CONNECTS & SUPPORTS WOMEN AND COMMUNITIES WORLDWIDE

Monitoring ACWW's success in meeting the Zero Hunger Challenge

Zero stunted children less than 2 years old

Questions for all Mothers with children under 2 years:

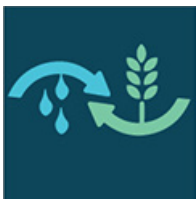

- How long will you breast-feed your child for?
- What weaning foods does the child eat and how often?
- Has the child ever had diarrhoea, malaria or any other serious illness?
- What vaccinations has your child had?

100% access to adequate food all year round

Questions for all project beneficiaries at the beginning and end of the project:

- Do you and your family have sufficient nutritious food all year round? If not, which months are your 'hungry period'?
- Which important foods are missing during this period?
- How many meals did you have yesterday, and what did you eat?

All food systems are sustainable

Questions for all farmers at the end of each cropping season:

- What inputs did you use? (Fertilisers, pesticides, compost, manure)
- Where did you get your seed from?
- What did you use to control pests?

100% increase in smallholder productivity and income

Questions for all farmers at the end of each cropping season:

- For each cash crop that you grow, what is the total cost of inputs per unit area? (Acre, hectare, other)
- What is the selling price of each crop per kg?
- What yield per unit area did you get from these crops last season?
- What profit do you make from growing each crop?
Yield (kg per unit area) x selling price = income. Income minus input costs = profit / loss.

Zero loss or waste of food

- ACWW's Agriculture Committee will work with members and societies around the world to educate and campaign against food loss and food waste. Their success stories will be monitored via traditional methods (reporting, email) as well as newer forms of contact such as Facebook and through the use of WhatsApp
